YOUTH CARE PLATFORM
ACCELERATE TO INDEPENDENCE: 'AFTER CARE GUARANTEE' IN YOUTH CARE

14th of March 2016, 9.30 – 16.30

Venue: Ellips Building, Koning Albert II-laan 35, 1030 Brussels

Mr Stefaan Van Mulders, head of the Flemish Agency for Youth Welfare, is pleased to invite you to the next meeting of the Youth Care Platform. This meeting will focus on the outcomes of the After Care Guarantee Project.

CONTEXT

The main goal of this high level transnational conference is to share and spread evidence on after care mechanisms in the youth care. Youngsters in youth care need effective guidance during the transition from youth care to young adulthood. This is often not or insufficiently the case.

Young people from residential care facilities often lack a strong family or social network to fall back on. Studies show a considerable number of homeless people have spent time in a youth care institution. They remain faced with 'structural homelessness' and unemployment. More often than not the roots to these lifelong challenges lie in ineffective guidance in the transition from youth care to young adulthood. For many vulnerable youngsters the gap after youth care is just too big.

The EU is introducing mechanisms to support member states in sharing experiences in the field of supporting vulnerable young people and introducing new approaches and schemes to tackle youth unemployment such as the Youth Guarantee. Partners of the After Care Guarantee project welcome these initiatives but also testify to the necessity of extra actions for young people. They risk falling out of all supportive models once they turn 18. Quite often they lack the necessary skills to enter the labour market and make use of the youth guarantee services. There is a strong need for after care mechanisms.

During the conference, we will present an after care guarantee model and policy recommendations in order to involve and increase awareness at all levels (from policy to youth work and young people themselves). These recommendations will be activated by hearing the youngsters and their accompanying staff. Regional ministers and administrations will reflect on future after care strategies and policies and a representative of the European Commission will share the perspective of the Commission on social protection and after care. To conclude the day, we will discuss the importance of prevention and an integrated collaboration of different sectors in after care mechanisms, based on the experiences of the Canadian Observatory on Homelessness and the Homeless Hub.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION: MEETING WORKING GROUPS ENSA YOUTH AND CHILD: 15TH OF MARCH 2016 - AFTERNOON

On Tuesday 15th of March 2015 (afternoon) the ENSA thematic working groups 'Childhood' and 'Youth' will take place in Brussels as well. All participants in the Youth Care Platform are invited to take part in these networks.

ENSA CHILD

Coordinator: Rudy De Cock - Child & Family (Flanders)

At the ENSA working group Child last September we launched the idea of a European network of family centers. During the coming Child working group session on the 15th of March we would like to discuss any progress made and tackle some actual topics such as the care for refugee children. If there is any suggestion for additional topics, please send them to rudy.decock@kindengezin.be.

ENSA YOUTH

Coordinator: George Luis del Re - Youth and Family Department Veneto Region

At the youth and family session of the ENSA General Assembly of September 18th 2015 working group we addressed social exclusion of vulnerable youth, we would like to follow up progress made with new initiatives and project proposals in the specific topics of:

- training and orientations paths, developing skills and fighting school drop off,
- fight against poverty, radicalization, facilitating social/health integration and employment;
- active citizenship and EU youth participation in democratic process
- work life balance, gender stereotypes and family as social capital

For best practices, suggestions and project proposals please write to: elena.curtopassi@regione.veneto.it
